

-
- DEPARTMENT: Religious Education
- TITLE: Full-time Faculty
- POSITION DESCRIPTION: Teach classes in Book of Mormon, Doctrine and Covenants, Old and New Testaments, Family Foundations. Will also have opportunity to prepare for and teach other courses (Missionary Preparation, L.D.S. Church History, Teachings of the Living Prophets, Doctrines of the Gospel, etc.). Responsibilities also include advising students and other university assignments.
- QUALIFICATIONS: Doctorate preferred; candidates with master's degrees will be considered with the stipulation that continued employment will be based upon the completion of a doctoral degree. CES experience preferred. A strong commitment to and evidence of excellence in teaching is required. Successful applicant must be a member of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and eligible for a temple recommend.
- BEGINNING DATE: August 25, 2008
- SALARY: Dependent on experience and degree.
- APPLICATION: Send a cover letter, resume, three letters of recommendation, official college transcripts, and a Brigham Young University-Idaho application form to:
- Philip A. Packer
Associate Academic Vice President for Instruction
290 Kimball
Brigham Young University-Idaho
Rexburg, ID 83460-1690
- The application form may be found on the University web page at <http://www.byui.edu/employment>.
- DATES: Applications will be accepted until October 26, 2007
- BYU-IDAHO: Brigham Young University-Idaho is a private institution affiliated with The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. BYU-Idaho is accredited to offer associate and baccalaureate degrees. It has a current enrollment of about 11,600 full-time students. Located in the community of Rexburg, Idaho, a town of approximately 25,000, BYU-Idaho is situated within a 90-minute drive of both Yellowstone National Park and Grand Teton National Park.