

Means-tested Federal Benefits Statement - Independent
2006-2007 Academic Year

Name: _____ I-Number: _____

READ CAREFULLY!!!

If any member of your household (who qualifies to be listed on your FAFSA application) received benefits in 2005 from certain federal benefit programs and your (plus your spouse's, if married) 2005 income is $50,000 or less, you may qualify for an adjusted Expected Family Contribution (EFC) which may increase your eligibility for aid.

The benefit programs that may qualify you for this adjustment are listed below. If anyone in your household received benefits from one or more of these programs in 2005, please check the appropriate blank/s and complete the certification at the bottom of this form.

- _____ Supplemental Security Income Program (SSI)
- _____ Food Stamp Program
- _____ Free or Reduced Price School Lunch Program
- _____ Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF)
- _____ Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC)

Final qualification will be determined by BYU-I Financial Aid Office.

CERTIFICATION

All of the information provided by me or any other person on this form is true and complete to the best of my knowledge.

Student Signature _____ Date _____