Philosophy
Integrity and responsible problem solving are paramount to the development of good design solutions in relationship to the problems of current human settings and activities. Interior designers creatively enhance the function and aesthetics of these diverse interior environments.

Central Aims
Design
To anchor student’s design process with a fundamental background in design theories and vocabulary, utilizing both two-dimensional and three-dimensional format.

Presentation
To communicate design through oral and visual presentations.

Space Planning
To provide students with opportunities to develop creative and problem-solving skills that fulfill functional and aesthetic needs in commercial and residential settings.

Business
To instill values and accountability for professional ethics and proper business procedures and practices.

Special Requirements
Entrance to the program is by application. An application, separate from acceptance to Brigham Young University-Idaho, is required and is available at http://www.byui.edu/interiordesign

All students admitted to the university and who have a high school or college grade point average of 3.0 or better are eligible to apply. Deadline for applications into the Interior Design Program is March 1st.
