Brigham Young University-Idaho Religion Requirements:
All students beginning their education at BYU-Idaho Fall of 2001 are required to meet the Book of Mormon requirement. All students beginning their education at BYU-Idaho Fall of 2003 will be obligated to meet the scripture requirements explained below.

UNIVERSITY REQUIREMENT - RELIGION

There are no degree, major, minor, or cluster combination offered in Religions Education. To earn any degree offered by the University, the Religion Course requirements listed below must be completed.

1. Bachelor degree: Fourteen (14) credit hours of religion must be earned at BYU-Idaho. Must include:
   - 4 credits Book of Mormon 121 and 122 or 4 credits Book of Mormon 221 (Designed for Prospective Missionaries) AND a minimum of 6 credits from:
     - New Testament 211 (3 credit)
     - Old Testament 301 or 302 (3 credit)
     - Doctrine and Covenants 324 (3 credit)
   - Pearl of Great Price is incorporated into other scripture courses
   - AND additional credits from any courses offered for credit in religion.

2. Associate degree: Seven (7) credit hours or four courses of religion are required. Must include:
   - 4 credits Book of Mormon 121 and 122 or 4 credits Book of Mormon 221 (Designed for Prospective Missionaries) AND 3 or more additional credits earned in any other religion courses taught at BYU-Idaho.

Transfer of Credit from other Universities and Institutes of Religion: Religion credit earned at C.S. Institute of Religion or other Church schools will transfer as elective credit when the following conditions are met: (1) Course number is 100 or above; (2) A letter grade is given; (3) The earned letter grade appears on the BYU-Idaho transcript.

Students completing courses at the BYU Jerusalem Center or Nauvoo may receive up to 6 earned credits in religion which will count toward the BYU-Idaho religion graduation requirement.

* Be aware that too many transferred elective credits could jeopardize the total credits allowed for registration (140 Maximum)

Total Transfer of Credits to take at BYU-Idaho Required Subject Matter: *If the subject matter has been taken at an Institute or other Church school you may complete the credit requirement by substituting other courses offered in Religion Education at BYU-Idaho until 14 credits are earned.

Second Religion Class:
A student who wishes to take two religion classes in a given term should contact the Department Chair to seek permission. The second religion class can only be added after the first day of class if there is available seating.

Attendance:
Each instructor may establish criteria for giving credit, but, generally, missing more than 20% of classes held will result in a failing grade and could result in no credit for the class, thus requiring the student to retake the class.

Waivers:
Should a student be denied a graduation diploma from BYU-Idaho because the religion requirement was not completed, and reasons for the non-completion were beyond the control of the student, an appeal may be submitted for review.

For clarification and/or application for a waiver, see the Chair of the Department of Religious Education. Make the appointment with Gloria Bradshaw, Office Manager, at (208) 496-1400.
