THE DAVID O. McKAY LIBRARY

The David O. McKay Library’s collections number nearly one million items including books, CDs, DVDs periodicals, microforms and sheet music. These collections are enhanced by hundreds of online databases that offer e-books, digital government publications, and millions of full-text journal articles. Items not available in the library may be requested through interlibrary loan and received within a few days from other libraries around the nation.

The library maintains more than 300 computer work stations (PCs and Macs) with access to research materials, the Internet and e-mail, and with production tools such as word processing and spread sheets. Seating for approximately 1,200 users, including study carrels, tables, and group study rooms, is available throughout the building. The McKay Commons provides an area for individual as well group study near personnel from the Library, Academic Technology and Academic Support who will help with research, computer applications and study skills.

The Family History Resource Center is staffed by skilled assistants and knowledgeable instructors to help students with their Family History research needs.

Library personnel are eager to help patrons locate and use materials. Library orientation is offered via walking tours that begin at the service desk near the southeast entrance and through a series of workshops held throughout the semester, introducing resources that are available at the McKay Library. Librarians also teach one-credit Library Research classes each block.

Students, faculty and staff use their BYU–Idaho ID card to check out books.

Additional information is available at the library website, www.lib.byui.edu.

We also provide batch scoring for tests administered in the classroom on answer sheets provided by the Testing Center. The Testing Center also offers on-line computer testing. Paper/pencil data approved for viewing by the Instructor, such as scores (immediately) and item responses (the day after the test), for objective tests administered in the Testing Center or batch tests scored and merged into the testing database, can be viewed on our Web pages at: http://testing.byui.edu/. An advanced Item Analysis tool, ExamStat, is provided for Faculty through BYU-Provo. Class scores, item responses, and an item analysis report along with other test aids are provided with this tool for each objective test. Report numbers and links are provided for the Instructor when the test ends or anytime upon request. If a record is kept of the report numbers, previous reports can be viewed by going to the provided link and entering the number.
